PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Greetings to my neighbors in the Tri-Lakes area:

By the time this edition of the Birchbark arrives in your mailbox I hope we have put this drawn out winter and anemic spring to the back of our minds and are enjoying the fruits of summer! Due to a couple of resignations, the Tri-Lakes Board has been rearranged and I find myself in the position of President while Dana Bloyer has capably grabbed hold of the Treasurer position. Our first order of business put the books in order, funded the Tree-Giveaway and put the plans in motion for an eventful summer.

If the Diners Clubs serve as an excuse to get out of the house and visit with our neighbors over the long winter, it is the fun packed summer events that we all look forward to. Whether you live on one of our gorgeous lakes or the surrounding neighborhood, be certain to know that you are welcome at any of the Tri-Lakes events. Please look over the calendar and set aside the dates to take advantage of the many fun filled summer activities.

The Tri-Lakes Association has a history of nearly 60 years going back to its inception in 1955. I am happy to say that was before my time, but not by much. The goal of the organization, at its inception, was to improve the quality of lake living in the tri-lakes area. The specific activities over the years have been geared to address whatever issues the members of the Tri-Lakes Association deemed important, but the one thing that has remained constant is unification of the community. There are over 600 households within the tri-lakes borders and to have an organization provide such a variety of community building activities and opportunities to know our neighbors is more significant than we all realize. I know our family has received much more than we have put in to the organization since we moved into the area 13 years ago; the most significant of those benefits has been a new and diverse group of friends and a sense of trust in knowing who our neighbors are.

To all of our volunteers, a big thanks for your efforts and for opening up your homes and sharing your resources to make this organization a success. If you are not yet a member or have let your membership expire I want to personally invite you to join or rejoin. The small fee that you pay, regardless of your level of participation, goes a long way toward adding value to the neighborhood and keeping this a desirable place to reside. I look forward to seeing everyone over the summer and hope to meet a lot of new neighbors.

Best regards,

Jonathan Early
 President, Tri-Lakes Association

Tri-Lakes Tree Give-A-Way

The Tree Giveaway 2013 welcomed in the first warm and sunny weekend of Spring this year, after an extenuated Minnesota winter. Approximately seventy Tri-Lakers came out to socialize and get their free Serviceberry (great for shade) and Prairie Red Fire Plum trees (tolerates partial shade) along with some Birches. This year Washington Conservation provided us with healthy plants with labels so we all could take them home (and perhaps get them planted later when the shaded ground finally thaws!)

Master Gardener, Nancy Hansen, was on hand to describe best planting practices as well as tips for battling the infestation of ravenous Japanese beetles, and the ubiquitous (though harmless) Box Elder Bugs. The Buckthorn puller is still available for Tri-Lakers to borrow, to aid in ridding our neighborhood of the pernicious tree. Call 651.773.3171 if you want to facilitate taking out the bigger buckthorns with this tool. If you are pulling buckthorn, it helps to pull after a rain.

Thanks to the members of the Tri-Lakes Board who were present, as well as several helpful neighbors volunteering their time to prepare for the event. Thank you, Jan, Marcia and Charlie, Mary Ann and Ron!

The turn-out this year and last was significantly less than previous years when we used to provide trees for approximately 150 residents who would show up. Planting trees and shrubs in our neighborhood continues to be important to the health and beauty of our Tri-Lakes as well as a habitat for wildlife. Many older mature trees that are safety hazards need to be removed or replaced. However, dying trees can still provide "bed & breakfast" for the birds. Our landscapes are constantly changing. We will continue with the annual Tree Giveaway next year as always, but will adjust to the fewer numbers by purchasing fewer trees for next year.

The choice for next year's tree is yet to be determined. Any requests?

Adopt A Highway

After 2 postponements due to weather (snow), the Adopt a Highway Volunteers got their chance to clean up Olson Lake Trail and Ideal Ave from 50th street to Stillwater Blvd on May 16. The turn-out was predictable and consisted of the usual stalwarts along with some new faces. Marcia Anderson, the coordinator for Adopt A Highway says "Thanks to all that helped clean up on a cold Thursday eve. There seemed to be a lot of garbage this year. NEXT ONE!"

In addition to the garbage a few small rewards of dollar bills were discovered and contributed to the pizza and refreshments afterward. The roadside looks a lot better. Look forward to the next clean-up in the Fall.

Tri-Lakes Boat Parade

4TH OF JULY PARADE

The Tri-Lakes Boat Parade is a nice family event on a nice summer day. I think that after this past winter and lack of spring, everyone will agree that Minnesotans should be taking advantage of every summer activity possible. This event is on the water and on the 4th – both are classic summer activities. Whether you are watching from shore, or decorating your boat to try to win some great prizes, it is an enjoyable day for all. Thursday, July 4th, at 12:00 PM, we will begin at the Lake DeMontreville boat launch (lineup at 11:40) and parade along the shores of lakes DeMontreville and Olson. We plan to select a Grand Marshall, have a judge's stand for awards (trophy for best presentation), and of course, gather for awards following the parade. Please plan to participate in this fun summer event or just enjoy the parade! The start time (12:00) should give your guests time to arrive and set up their chairs on your shore, so ENJOY!
